US Marketing Compliance Guide

Adaptive Checkout™ (Installments + Pay in 4)

INTRODUCTION

The financial services industry is heavily regulated, requiring all Affirm and our merchant-led marketing to be vetted by our Marketing Compliance Department. This guide focuses on the Adaptive Checkout™ program. The Adaptive Checkout™ program incorporates the monthly Installments and Pay in 4 products into one seamless solution.

The purpose of this guide is to assist merchants in developing marketing assets that comply with regulatory standards. It offers detailed guidance on how to integrate the necessary disclosures into various types of marketing materials, ensuring that all marketing content meets legal requirements.

CONSUMER REGULATIONS

Truth in Lending Act (TILA)

Under TILA, customers must be informed about crucial credit terms like payment amount, number of payments, and APR before loan commitment. The cost to finance must be expressed in terms of an Annual Percentage Rate (e.g. XX% APR) and cannot be expressed as an Interest Rate only (e.g. XX% interest).

Advertising must only state available credit terms, and if "trigger terms" are present, full repayment details, including APR and payment terms, must be disclosed. The use of trigger terms would require the inclusion of a “representative example”.

For Affirm's Adaptive Checkout™, which includes Affirm Pay in 4 and monthly Installments, compliance with TILA in all advertising is essential.

Terms that trigger a representative example

Representative Example:

For example, a $800 purchase might cost $72.21/mo over 12 months at 15% APR.

Note: The representative example is specific to your financing program through Affirm. Use 15% APR as the basis for the representative example.

APR calculator: affirm.com/business/apr-calculator

Terms that do NOT trigger a representative example.

- Affirm
- Monthly payments
- Pay over time
- Buy Now, Pay over time
- Financing
- As low as 0% APR
- 0 - 36% APR
- Interest- free
- 4 interest-free payments
- Pay in 4

Representative Example & Where to Put It

The representative example should be near the trigger term on the same creative, ensuring it's easily readable by the average person. It should contain the (1) purchase price, (2) monthly payment amount, (3) length of loan term and (4) Annual Percentage Rate (APR).

If space constraints prevent this, tie the trigger term to the representative example using one of the following methods within the same creative:

- Reference text (“See footer for details.”)
- Reference symbol (e.g., *, †)
- Hyperlink - a direct link to a landing page where the example is conspicuously placed is acceptable. This landing page could be a product detail page with the Affirm educational modal or an educational page on your site.

See subsequent slides based on marketing asset type for examples.

Unfair, Deceptive, or Abusive Acts or Practices (UDAAP)

Unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts and practices (UDAAP) can lead to significant harm for consumers, damage their trust, and destabilize the financial market. UDAAP aims to protect consumers from misleading or deceitful practices.

To mitigate UDAAP risks in advertising, it's crucial to provide complete and understandable information, maintain honesty, and avoid creating undue urgency.

While disclosures add context, they cannot compensate for false claims or omitted details. All claims must be factually supported and any promotions or rebates, including 0% APR offers, must be honored.

Importantly, a company's intent is not a factor in regulatory assessments of misleading or harmful practices.

Fair Lending

Fair Lending applies throughout a loan's lifecycle including advertising and prohibits discrimination in any loan-related process. Merchant partners promoting Affirm financing must ensure their advertising doesn't dissuade anyone from applying and should not add extra criteria to the application process.

It's crucial to avoid targeting Affirm financing based on demographics such as:

- Race/Ethnicity
- Color
- Religion
- National origin
- Sex (including sexual orientation or gender identity)
- Familial status/Marital Status
- Disability
- Age (provided the applicant has the capacity to contract)
- Income dependency on a public assistance program

Targeting criteria (including usage of look-a-like models) is subject to review by Affirm Compliance. Instructions for review can be found here.

CAN-SPAM Act

The CAN-SPAM Act governs commercial emails, including those promoting content on commercial websites, and extends to business-to-business emails. Key compliance guidelines from the FTC include:

- Ensuring all header information is truthful and not misleading;
- Accurately reflecting the email's content in the subject line;
- Clearly identifying the message as an advertisement;
- Current street address or P.O. Box registered with USPS;
- Providing a clear and easy opt-out option;
- Honoring opt-out requests promptly without requiring additional personal information;
- Maintaining responsibility for compliance even if email marketing is outsourced.

For more information, see Guidance for Marketing Emails in subsequent slides.

DISCLOSURES 101

Disclosures are statements that provide essential information to consumers, clarifying or qualifying marketing claims to prevent deception. They are necessary to ensure that all material facts about the financing program are presented honestly, preventing consumers from being misled by marketing content.

Applicable to All Marketing

- Disclosures inform customers of actually available terms.
- They must meet a “clear and conspicuous” standard.
 - They must be legible—no one should have to squint to read them.
 - Refer to subsequent slides for instances where a minimum font size is required.
 - Contrast text with background: this works well, but this does not.
- If disclosures are separate from the messaging they modify, tie the disclosure and the messaging together using one of the following methods:
 - Hyperlink
 - Reference text (“see footer for details”)
 - Reference symbol (e.g., *, †) - If the messaging is a “trigger term,” the reference symbol must be directly next to the trigger term(s)
- If using a reference symbol, the messaging ends with the reference symbol and the disclosure begins with the same reference symbol.
